

INSURGENTS WERE IN FULL CONTROL

SENATOR CUMMINGS ACTS AS TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN OF IOWA CONVENTION.

THE RESULTS FROM KANSAS

Two Regulars Retain Their Seats—Insurgents Win Many Victories—Grandfather Clause in Oklahoma Won Out.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Des Moines, Aug. 3.—With the standpatters and progressives apparently at hopeless variance on the essential matter of the tariff platform the Republican state convention was called to order today for the purpose of writing a platform, selecting a state committee and making nominations of superintendent of public instruction and two supreme court judges.

With an open, positive repudiation
of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, Senator Cummings, leader of the Senate insurgents today sounded the battle-cry of insurgency as temporary chairman of the convention.

Senator Cummings not only did not apologize for, but gloried in his vote against the tariff bill. Cummings defended his own Republicanism and said the party could not endure permanently half progressive and half stand-pat.

He also took for the progressives
the credit for all the good in the railroad bill as finally passed.

When Senator Cummings appeared as temporary chairman he was received with cheers, as was also Senator Dolliver, who is slated for permanent chairman. Cummings, in his speech, made no mention by name of President Taft or Governor Davenport.

The district caucuses announced the members of the resolution and state committees. The platform will probably be reported late today but it is understood that it will endorse Taft,
good roads, publicly of campaign expenses, and popular election of senators. The progressives control this committee.

The majority report on the platform
reaffirms loyalty to the national platform of 1909, emphasizes the republican doctrine of protection, and unequivocally declares the republicanism of Iowa "do not recognize the revision of 1909 as a satisfactory fulfillment of party promises."

The work of Cummings and Dolliver
in the senate are endorsed; so are the efforts of Taft to fulfill promises of the national platform. The republican state administration is also endorsed. Senator Dolliver was elected upon for the permanent chairman.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Topeka, Kan., Aug. 3.—The insurgents won almost complete victory
at the Kansas primaries yesterday.
Seven out of eight insurgent congressmen have been nominated by majorities from 500 to 3,500 in spite of everything the congressional organization in Washington and the regulars in Kansas could do to save their men.

W. R. Stubbs, the insurgent candidate for governor, was re-nominated
with a majority of 20,000 over Thomas Wagstaff, the regular candidate.

Later returns show D. R. Anthony,
a regular, was nominated in the first district over McNeal, an insurgent, as was at first reported. This makes six insurgents and two regulars nominated.

In Missouri.
St. Louis, Aug. 3.—In Missouri, ten democratic congressmen and at least two of three republican members of the lower house were re-nominated at the primary election held yesterday.

The exception on the republican side in Congress was Charles A. Weaver of the fourth district, against whom David Whill, an insurgent republican, is opposed. The result will probably not be finally known for a couple of days
because of the inaccessibility of the county comprising the district.

Blacks Cannon.
Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 3.—Senator J.
P. Dolliver in speaking of the insurgents' victories in Kansas said: "The sweeping victory in Kansas was fully expected on my part. There is no doubt that the visit of Speaker Cannon to that state served the purpose of creating a stronger sentiment against the interests he has so long represented."

The Grandfather Clause.
Guthrie, Okla., Aug. 3.—Fourteen hundred fifty-two negro voters of Oklahoma are disfranchised as the result of the vote taken yesterday in the Oklahoma primaries on the famous "grandfather clause" amendment to the state constitution. The disfranchisement of the negroes makes a Democratic victory certain in this state next November.

MANY CANDIDATES FILE THEIR PAPERS IN MADISON TODAY

Dancroft's Petition Containing 3,055 Names, Given to Secretary of State Today—Others Filed.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Aug. 3.—Level H.
Bancroft, a republican candidate for the nomination for attorney general,
filed his petition today with 3,055
signers. Others filed as follows: Julius Howland of Chippewa Falls, for state treasurer, 5,358; C. E. Mohr of Portage, for state senator, 6,781; Louis J. Superior, for congress, 1,300.

cory W. Crosby of Wausau, for the state senate, 563; C. A. Shover of Ft.
Atkinson, democrat, for the senate;
Wallace Ingalls of Racine, for congress; Geo. E. Scott of Prairie Farm, for the state senate; Chas. B. Casperson of Trade Lake, for the assembly;
R. L. Urquhart of Medford, for the assembly; and Herman Elern for insurance commissioner, who will file
his nomination papers late this afternoon.

HUBBY DIDN'T LOVE HER ANY MORE: SHE COMMITTED SUICIDE

La Crosse Woman Blew Out Brains
Because Husband Went to Lodge Against Her Wishes.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 3.—Convicted
that her husband did not love her,
because he attended a lodge meeting
against her wishes, Mrs. Stewart L.
Morgan, early this morning placed to her temple the muzzle of a heavy revolver and blew out her brains. She had tried three times before to suc-
cide.

RAIN STOPPED THE COMPETITIVE DRILL

Weather Made Postponement Necessary—Pythian Sisters Elect Officers.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Milwaukee, Aug. 3.—The competitive drill for the Knights of Pythias
for today was postponed this morning on account of rain. A conception of the wonderful growth of the Knights of Pythias is gained from the biennial report of Fred E. Wharton, Supreme Keeper of Records and Seals, made to the convention. With a membership of 78,000, the organization has gained more than 100,000
members each year and today has approximately 720,000. Mrs. Sarah L. Cotton of Weatherford, Texas, was elected Supreme Clerk of the Pythian Sisters at their session this morning.

Other elections were: Supreme Senior, Mrs. Ida M. Johnson, Center City, Colo.; Supreme Junior, Cora M. Davis, Union City, Ore.; Supreme Manager, Lily Samuels, Oakland, Cal.; Supreme Protector, Mrs. Flora Hull, Savannah, Ga.; Supreme Mistress of Records and Correspondence, Mrs.
Socle Nielsen, Union City, Ind.;
Supreme Mistress of Finance, Mrs.
Oona Buford, Lancaster, Wis.

W. W. Warner, P. W. Karsten,
Fred W. Wagner, George Foss, Prud-
ence Wagner, John A. Ayward,
George H. Merriell and other prominent citizens are actively interested
in the institution against further separation and have interested the governor
against the practice.

BABY'S BIB CHOKED A REEDSBURG CHILD

Two Year Old Infant Met Violent Death While Mother Was Absent From Room.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Reedsburg, Wis., Aug. 3.—The bib
of a baby's apron proved a deadly noose at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Albert Brandt on Tuesday. Leonard, aged two years, was left alone a few minutes while his mother was hanging out the clothes. When she returned she was horrified to find her baby dead. While playing with his bib, the child had so twisted the garment about his neck that it strangled to death. The mother is crazed by grief.

AN INJUNCTION TO BE ASKED OF COURT

Deputy Attorney General Will Try
To Stop Dredging of Rock at Devil's Lake.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Madison, Aug. 3.—Deputy Attorney General Russell Jackson in circuit court today asked Judge J. Ray Stevens to enjoin the American Refractory company of Joliet, Illinois, from dredging sand on property near Devil's Lake. The action is taken at the request of the state park board which is endeavoring to utilize the land about the lake for a state park. The company owns about eighty acres of the land and maintains that the stone is valuable for use in connection with the manufacture of brick.

OLD PAROLE OFFICER DIES AT HIS HOME

For Ten Years Has Served As Parole
Official at Waukesha

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Madison, Aug. 3.—The state board of control has received notice of the death of H. R. Rawson, for ten years parole officer of the state industrial school in Waukesha, at his home in Westfield. Preceding his connection with the industrial school, Mr. Rawson was for five years agent for the home for dependent children in Springfield.

CARP FISHING IS TO BE ABOLISHED

Madison People Much Aroused Over Destruction of the Game Fish
in Their Lakes.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Aug. 3.—Fearing serious damage to, if not the destruction of the game fish in the Madison
lakes, Madison's leading fishermen,
most of them business men owning cottages on the lake-shores, have united to stop the selling of carp by big eastern fish companies. Under a license granted by the state fish and game department, these sellers are gathering in vast numbers of carp,
and with them other fish of doubtful quality. It is the contention of the advisers of conservation of the fishing that the selling not only results in destroying the carp, but kills game fish also.

Within the past five years hundreds of carps of carp have been sold in the four lakes of this vicinity,
placed in refrigerator cars and shipped to eastern cities, where they are prepared for the market. It is said that it is often sold under the label of salmon. That carp is good to eat is attested by Gov. Davidson and many other prominent fishermen of this city,
but none denies that they are injurious to the life of other fish. Upon the latter ground, the state allows a commercial fishing concern to seine the lakes. The carp brings six to eight cents a pound.

W. W. Warner, P. W. Karsten,
Fred W. Wagner, George Foss, Prud-
ence Wagner, John A. Ayward,
George H. Merriell and other prominent citizens are actively interested
in the institution against further sepa-
ration and have interested the governor
against the practice.

NORTHWESTERN HAS HEAVY LOSS BY FIRE

Roundhouse, Machine Shops and Locomotives at Chadron, Nebraska Burned to the Ground.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chadron, Neb., Aug. 3.—The Northwestern roundhouse and machine shops and fifteen locomotives were burned last night. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

NEWFOUNDLAND PREMIER GETS MEMORIAL TABLET

Sir Edward P. Norris to Accept Bronze Place to Commemorate Settlement of Island.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, Aug. 3.—The premier of Newfoundland, Sir Edward P. Norris, who has been spending the summer
in England, went to Bristol today on a mission of considerable interest to the American colony and the mother country as well. The chief purpose of his visit is to arrange for the acceptance of a tablet that is to be sent from Bristol to Newfoundland to commemorate the colonization of that part of the world by John Guy, a Bristol merchant, in 1610. While in Bristol Sir Edward will also look into plans for the proposed revival of trade between that city and Newfoundland through the establishment of direct steam communication.

KING HAakon CELEBRATES THIRTY-EIGHTH BIRTHDAY

Anniversary of Norwegian Ruler's Birth Generally Observed Throughout Country.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Christiania, Aug. 3.—King Haakon
VII. celebrated his thirty-eighth birthday and in honor of the event the national flag was displayed in profusion in the capital and throughout the country. The King received the congratulations of the foreign representatives, the heads of the various government departments, the army and navy in the morning and attended a review of the troops in the afternoon.
The day was generally observed throughout Norway by demonstrations of loyalty and public festivities.

SOCIETY WEDDINGS SOLEMNIZED TODAY

Lawrence-Dix Ceremony Performed at Mount Misco, N. Y.—Turner Sterling Nuptials at Stockton, Cal.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Aug. 3.—A number of prominent society folk went by special train to Mount Misco, Westchester County, this morning to attend the wedding of Miss Margaret G. Dix, younger daughter of the late Rev. Dr.
Morgan Dix, rector of Trinity church,
and Charles Lander Lawrence, son of the late Francis C. Lawrence, Jr.
The ceremony was performed at St.
Mark's church, Mount Misco, at high noon. The small but picturesque church was handsomely decorated with flowers for the occasion. Miss Katy Lawrence, a sister of the bridegroom acted as maid of honor and the bridesmaid were Miss Anita Pen-nibody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas.
A. Pennibody, and Miss Sophie Townsend, who is the fiancée of John A.
Dix, the bride's brother, and the daughter of Howard Townsend, John
A. Dix gave his sister in marriage.
Edmund P. Rogers was the best man and the ushers were Francis R. Appleton, Jr., Franklin B. Lord, Armar Johnson, Sidney Broese, Arthur Mon-
ton, Perry Osborn, Budd Hollister, Roger Poor, and Charles Young. The wedding was followed by a wedding breakfast at Apple Hill, the summer
home of the bride's mother.

Naval Wedding.
Stockton, Cal., Aug. 3.—The attendance of numerous officers from the Marine Island navy yard, all in full dress uniform, lent brilliancy to the brilliance of the wedding here today
of Miss Harriet Sterling and Ensign Richard Kelly Turner, U. S. N. The ceremony and wedding reception took place at the home of the bride's parent, Ensign Turner is at present attached to the battleship West Virginia.

GIVES REASONS FOR SEEKING THE OFFICE

Weisse, Candidate For Senate Makes Public Letters Between Him and Another Candidate.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Milwaukee, Aug. 3.—Charles H.
Weisse today made public the correspondence which passed between him and Bert Williams, democratic candidate for senator, regarding Mr.
Weisse's candidacy for the senatorial nomination. Mr. Weisse said he became a candidate in the interest of the Democratic party, and to promote a friendly contest.

SUES FOR INJURIES SUSTAINED BY FALL

Mrs. Perkins of Marinette Asks for $3,000 for Injuries From Fall on Defective Sidewalk.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Marinette, Wis., Aug. 3.—Mrs. Elizabeth Perkins is suing the city of Marinette for $3,000 for injuries which, it is alleged, she sustained in a fall, caused by a defective walk.

REILLY ADDRESSED CONVENTION TODAY

Funeral Directors and Embalmers' Association of State Hold Meeting.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Fond du Lac, Wis., Aug. 3.—The second session of the Wisconsin Funeral Directors and Embalmers' association was held this morning. The convention listened to an address by Hon.
M. K. Reilly, who spoke upon the need and desire of the American business and professional men for order and wealth in the expense of health and happiness.
A report of the delegates to the National Funeral Directors' convention at Portland, Oregon, had, and was given by John Reilly. The principal point in his address was to advocate
a high school diploma as necessary to secure an embalmer's license.

BALLINGER MAY WAIT TO HEAR FROM TAFT

Politicians Much Worried Over Prospect of His Retaining Present Office.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Beverly, Mass., Aug. 3.—The unwillingness of Richard Ballinger to resign from the secretaryship of the interior, is causing a number of politicians' uneasiness. They fear Ballinger will make good his threat to stay until President Taft requests him to get out.

LOSSES SHOWN THEN MARKET IS STEADIER

Prices Dropped on New York Change
at Opening Today, But Prices
Again Resumed Normal.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
New York, Aug. 3.—A majority of issues showed fractional losses at the opening of the stock market today,
but after the first fifteen minutes a steadier tone prevailed.

FEEL CERTAIN THEY CAN IDENTIFY BODY

Scotland Yard Confident of Establishing Identity in Crippen Inquest.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
London, Aug. 3.—"There is little doubt that we will be able to identify the body as that of Mrs. Crippen," this statement was made today by an official of the criminal investigating department of Scotland Yard. Scotland Yard denies any knowledge of a reported confession by Dr. Crippen.

Quebec, Aug. 3.—Inspector Dew this afternoon intimated that Dr. Crippen had made a full confession to him of the murder of his wife in London.
Dew declined to go into details.

London, Aug. 3.—Inquiries at Scotland Yard this evening as to whether Inspector Dew had reported a confession from Dr. Crippen brought forth the reply: "Scotland Yard has no statement for the press at this time."

How Search Started.
Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 3.—"When
Dr. Crippen told us many weeks ago that his wife disappeared after she had died in Los Angeles, we did not believe it, and we secured the evidence which finally induced the Scotland Yard men to investigate," said Mrs. Cecelia McCarthy, a member of the London Music Hall Ladies' Guild
today.

MINNESOTA LAWYERS GATHER AT ST. PAUL

Bar Association Holds Annual Convention—Apple Shippers Meet at Niagara Falls.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 3.—Between three and four hundred of the leading members of the Minnesota bar assembled here today for the opening of the annual meeting of the Minnesota State Bar association, which will remain in session till Friday. The business sessions are held in the senate chamber of the capitol. La Fayette French of Austin, presided at the meeting today and the list of speakers includes Congressman John Jacob Eeckel of LaCrosse, Wis., and other men of prominence.

Apple Shippers.
Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Hundreds of members of the International Apple Shippers' association are in attendance at the annual convention of that organization which opened here today for a three days' session. President Wagner occupied the chair at the opening meeting and delivered his annual address. An interesting program has been arranged for the three days of the convention.

Kentucky Bankers.
Ashland, Ky., Aug. 3.—A large and representative gathering of bankers attended the meeting of Group 9 of today. J. P. Huger, of Ashland, delivered the address of welcome, to which William Adams, of Cincinnati, made the response. The list of speakers included M. F. Conley, of Louisville; J. N. Kelso, of Marysville, and W. H. Stephens, of Brooksville.

Fined For Drunkenness: John Sweet, who mixed poison with his beer about a year ago and was later sent to an asylum, was brought up in municipal court this morning charged with drunkenness. He paid a fine of

TAMENESS OF A SEA LION

Old Ben, Weighing Half a Ton, is Often Met on the Streets of Avalon.

In describing the islands lying off the southern coast of California Frederick Holder writes: "The feature which will really amaze the wanderer among the Channel Islands is the tameness of some animals. To meet a bull sea lion weighing approximately half a ton on the main avenue of a town, 50 feet from the water, is a possibility of a startling nature, yet I have seen Old Ben, the head of the Santa Catalina sea lion rookery, on Crescent avenue, Avalon, surrounded by tourists who snapped their cameras at him with impunity.

"At that time Ben could be induced to come ashore when the lure was a fat, long-finned tuna, but one day he climbed upon the wharf, coming directly up the steps, following the man with a fish. Then some unreasonable person made a threatening demonstration; Ben started for the step, lost his hold, slipped and fell, smashing himself, and for a long time he remembered this, but gradually his faith in human beings has returned.

"He is good-natured and never attempts to bite. But he is a savage looking animal, and when he comes leaping up on the boat landing, driving off women and children by mere force of appearance, and seizing their fish, as he did recently, he makes a very clever imitation of a ferocious beast."

WISCONSIN CROPS BELOW AVERAGES OF PAST YEARS

Secretary True Announces That Conditions Range From Fifty-two to Seventy-eight Per Cent of Normal

Farm crops in Wisconsin have been so badly damaged by the lack of rain that their condition ranges from 52 to 78 per cent of the average for this time of the year, according to the monthly report issued on Tuesday by Secretary John M. True of the state board of agriculture.

Unless a general rain comes soon, the crop situation will become much more serious, Secretary True believes. His report is as follows, being based on returns received on Aug. 1: There was no general rain during the month of July. There were, however, slight showers in most parts of the state that have saved growing crops from complete destruction. Pastures have suffered most, and are now furnishing little feed for stock, this shortage being supplied by feeding of hay and grain feeds.

Wheat, Rye, and Barley. Enough thrashing of grain has been done to show that the yield of wheat, rye and barley will not fall far below the normal yield. Oats, though materially injured upon sandy or dry land, will furnish a better yield than was anticipated in the last report. Corn planted upon good, fertile fields, and well cultivated, has shown a remarkable degree of vitality, and with a general rain now would make a fair crop.

Early potatoes are small, and the yield is light. Later potatoes are already suffering from want of rain, and the crop will be materially shortened even if rain comes soon.

Tobacco Not Promising. Early planted tobacco is blossoming without a desirable growth of leaf, while the late planted is still small and not promising.

Sugar beets are doing fairly well, though making slow growth. The following percentages of condition of crops is reported by correspondents:

	Pct.
Corn	78
Potatoes	52
Peas	52 1/2
Beans	63
Chickpeas	55
Tobacco	50
Sugar beets	77
Pastures	52

No crop report will be issued for September on account of the state fair on Sept. 12 to 16.

SOCIETY EVENTS OF NOTE IN THE CITY OF BROADHEAD

Miss Clara Holcomb Hostess at Thimble Party and Miss Helen Beck with Surprise on Birthday.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Broadhead, Aug. 3.—Miss Clara Holcomb entertained a small company of lady friends Tuesday afternoon at a thimble party. Very dainty refreshments were served and an enjoyable time was had.

On Tuesday evening about twenty friends of Miss Helen Beckwith gave her a very pleasant surprise party, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. Social tea and cake made an evening of enjoyment. Miss Beckwith was presented with a beautiful spoon as a token of friendship.

Miss Edith Arnold of Afton, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hanson, son and daughter, and Thelma, left on Tuesday to visit relatives in Finland, North Dakota.

Geo. Baxter made a business trip to Burlington on Tuesday in the interest of the Marty Cheese and Cold Storage Co.

Loyal Young went on Tuesday to Janesville where he is visiting his cousin, the Messers, and Madeline George and Harry Blackford.

Chas. Richter has resumed his position as brakeman on the Albany branch of the P. M. & St. Paul Ry.

Mrs. A. Barnes was a passenger to Hollet on Tuesday where she is the guest of her sister and brother, Mrs. R. C. Murdoch and Mrs. M. Dunwiddie.

Hon. H. C. Putnam made a business trip to Chicago on Tuesday.

After a few days spent here with his mother and brothers, Mr. J. Kirkpatrick and Messrs. Hector and Leroy Lawrence Kirkpatrick, returned to his home in Clarion, Iowa, on Tuesday.

Mrs. M. Lounsbury went on Tuesday for a short stay in Rockford. Mrs. G. Harman of Janesville, who was a guest at the McKenzies home, returned Tuesday.

Unassailed.

"Where's the ossified man?"

"Fired him."

"What for?"

"He fell in love."

"But that shouldn't have spoiled him as a drawing card."

"That's what you think; but after he fell in love he was the softest thing you ever saw."

THE SUMMER CAPITOL.

GOV. J. O. DAVIDSON OF WISCONSIN AND HIS SUMMER HOME AT LAKE KEGONSA.

Stoughton, Wis., Aug. 3.—Governor James O. Davidson in July completed the erection of his first summer home, a cottage at Ven Park, Lake Kegonsa, thirteen miles from the capital. The building is 31 feet square, a two-story frame structure. It has four rooms on the first floor and six sleeping chambers on the second. The governor practically drew his own plans for the house, although he modeled the cottage closely after that of A. H. Sims, his neighbor and chum at the lake.

In camp at the executive's cottage are Governor and Mrs. Davidson and their two daughters, Mrs. Mabel Ingham, formerly of Milwaukee, and Miss Grace.

Governor Davidson in 1909 bought the lot for his building for $900. The building, erected by Contractor O. G. Hemming of this city, cost him about $2,000. A bouthouse is contemplated to be built in the fall.

WHEN ADVERTISING COUNTS

Business Firms That Are Perseverant in Use of Printers' Ink Weather Periods of Depression.

I noted with some interest in a business publication, a few days ago, that, among the numerous corporations that had been forced to the wall by the business depression of a year or two ago, none which was known to be a persistent advertiser was among the number, says The Optimist in The Cleveland (O.) News. On the other hand, it was shown that the great corporations which used a great deal of advertising space did not even find it necessary to reduce, or in any way interrupt, their dividends, while some were even more prosperous than in ordinary times.

This puzzled me for some time, until I questioned the good wife about the matter. This is a habit of mine. When I get to a place where I cannot reason out anything for myself, I often speak of the matter to her, and if she cannot inductively give me some new light on it she can usually suggest something which tends toward a new view of it, often developing the solution in that way.

"Why," she said, "when I am short of money I read the ads. a little more closely to see if I cannot save a little something, somewhere, that I might have overlooked under ordinary conditions. When my allowance is short I am more careful about where I buy things than when my allowance is more plentiful. When I have lots of money I sometimes buy things without considering the price very closely and if the difference is small I buy it at the most convenient place."

"In looking over the ads. I nearly always find something which can be bought a little cheaper somewhere outside of the stores where I usually do my trading."

And there is an end to what looked to me like a matter which could not be explained. Doubtless most of the women are like the good wife in this respect, and the persistent advertiser reaps the benefit.

The Non-Advertiser.

Applying the test of logic to some of the stock arguments of the non-advertiser, a western newspaper says:

The business man who does not advertise because it costs money should stop paying salaries for the same reason.

The business man who does not advertise because he tried it once and failed should throw his cigar away because his light went out.

The business man who does not advertise because he doesn't know how himself should stop eating because he can't cook.

The business man who does not advertise because somebody said it did not pay should not believe the world is round because the ancients said it was flat.

Views of a Banker.

In the course of conversation with an Ohio banker the subject of advertising was broached in regard to its relation to banks. The banker said that it was the very life of business, any business, to advertise, and that the success of his bank was due in a large measure, to the systematic advertising campaign which they had been conducting. That the method of giving calendars at the end of the year was not worth the money expended, taking the same amount of money and put it in newspaper space and it would bring a return to two hundred per cent.

Advertising Did It.

Richard Sears of Sears, Roebuck & Co., Chicago, recently retired with $50,000,000 and he hadn't been in business a great many years, either. Advertising was the secret. He had something to sell and he let people know about it and didn't allow them to forget.

GOING AWAY

"Oh, thank you!" said the young woman who was just about to depart for Michigan for the summer. "Yes, it is kind of you to wish me a pleasant trip. If it isn't pleasant, at least it will be interesting, I am sure."

"In fact, I am quite looking forward to the moment of my departure because I am so curious to know just what I shall take along. You know, when I travel I always yearn to start away looking like the girls in the railroad advertisements. They are invariably attired in the freshest of tailor suits. Each carries one attenuated, natty suitcase and a tightly rolled umbrella built on lead pencil lines, and displays a pleasant, care-free smile. They all appear to have successfully packed everything they own in trunks that have gone on ahead. It rests me to look at them."

"Homehow, though, no matter how hard I try to reach the ideal of a railroad girl in a picture, something invariably interferes."

"One year somebody brought me a dozen jars of jelly at the last minute. These I had to carry along with the umbrella. Then my cousin added a paper package containing the rubber overshoes which she had worn away last year by mistake and which belonged to the cottager next door. She said it would relieve her conscience if I would take them along. So I did. I dropped them overboard just as soon as I got on the boat, however. Her conscience never knew the difference and it was lots nicer for me."

"This year it is going to be even worse. It started with the bulldog. Dick Patterson owns the dog. He said some friends of his had it and also had a little baby, and couldn't manage both, so they let him take his choice. He decided after some thought he'd take the bulldog, because he could keep it at the stable with his riding horse, and he couldn't dispose of a baby that way, although he really regretted the baby, because he said it was a very nice one."

"The dog is a white, mock-eyed creature and so affectionate that he weeps if you raise an eyebrow at him. He looks as though butter wouldn't melt in his mouth, yet one day when I had him out he jumped on an innocent fox terrier that was attending strictly to its own affairs and licked the daylight out of it in a disinterested sort of way. I quit hailing him around by his collar right then and there!"

"When in a jesting moment I suggested that Dick board the dog this summer at my house he jumped at the idea because it seems he is 'going away' and there was nobody to leave the dog with. So I've got the bulldog to lead on a chain in one hand. No doubt I shall spend my summer alternating between the rural police court and the jail, because the bulldog will chew up all the other resorts' offerings, cats and poodles. I asked Dick what on earth I'd do if there was an awful dog fight because of the bulldog. He replied that I must go into the house and close the windows so that the noise would not disturb me and then let the best dog win. I am almost certain that I shall not have a dull summer."

"Then just last night John Gordon and I went out to one of the newly opened amusement parks and we came to a booth where people were buying ten-cent chances on birds. There was everything from sea-groves parrots down to darling little gray birds with red throats. John bought a couple of chances. Just as I was explaining what kind of cage I should get to match the gray bird that I was going to win the man called out my number in such a loud voice that I was dimly positive I had drawn a parrot at least. What do you suppose I got? A globe with three gold fish in it. John got nothing."

"I was so dazed that I let the man hand me the globe and then I walked away before I realized that I had accepted the responsibility for the welfare of three innocent fish, at that moment flopping about in the water and gazing at me trustfully. There was a wire on the globe so I could carry it, and John said of course I wouldn't think of leaving it behind. I've got to take it along or hurt his feelings, and as my other hand is busy with the suitcase I shall have to hang the gold fish globe about my neck. I can fry the fish for breakfast after I get to Michigan."

"I nearly forgot to mention my tea tray. It is one of those framed, glass-covered trays and so big that it wouldn't go into a trunk. It is wrapped in burlap with one handle sticking out for me to hang on to, because it would have been too much trouble to crate it. I think I shall carry that in my teeth."

"Then there is the little satchel with all the solid teaspoons and other silver in it and there will be three or four late packages from the stores that I'll have to take along. Mother said she wanted to send a little red wagon to the caretaker's child if it wouldn't trouble me too much to include it in my luggage. I may have forgotten some things, but those are the chief articles that I shall have to carry."

"Goodness!" said the listener. "You can't travel on one ticket as a single individual, can you? Why, you're a whole caravan!"

Talk about heroes; a Virginia clergyman has just been married for the fifth time.

And Some Men.
When it comes to drawing on a bank account every woman is an artist.

CLUB TO MAKE NEWSIES GOOD

Omaha Business Men Form Organization to Stop Swearing and Tobacco Using.

Omaha, Neb.—How to keep the 400 newsboys of this city from shooting craps, swearing, smoking and forgetting to wash their hands and faces at proper intervals is a problem that has troubled the members of the Children's Home Society. At last it is believed that a solution has been reached.

An organization for the welfare of the newsboys started eight years ago fell through, and since then the youngsters have been permitted to grow up and run wild. Now they are to be taken in hand and their condition bettered.

Probation Officer Bernstein has interested a number of business men of the city and a club has been organized, with E. W. Dickinson, capitalist; Home Miller, proprietor of the largest hotel in the city; J. A. Cudaby, a packer; Rev. Father Burns, a pastor, who has always interested himself in boys, and Judge Milton of the juvenile court as trustees.

The committee having immediate charge of the welfare of the boys is made up of Joe Carroll, Tony Costanzo, Tony Monico and Sam Kallin, all of whom were once newsboys, but now are prosperous business men.

The following rules have been adopted by the committee to govern the actions of the boys:

No smoking, chewing, gambling or jumping on street cars.

Must have clean faces and hands.

No going into saloons.

Must be loyal to one another.

Must be off the streets at eight o'clock at night unless an extra is out.

No boy under eight years of age shall sell papers.

Every boy under sixteen years of age shall attend one session of school daily.

No foul or profane language.

A large room has been rented near the business portion of the city. It has been equipped with a small library, tables on which games of many kinds can be played, tubs and shower baths.

The club will be self-governed and officered by the boys, but over its affairs the committee of business men will have general supervision.

It will cost the boys nothing to join the club. Each member is given a numbered badge for identification and as a certificate of character. If a complaint is filed against any boy, or if a boy becomes troublesome, a report is made to the juvenile court, when Judge Sutton will investigate and take the necessary action.

GIRLS TAKE BICYCLE TRIP

Two Americans, Making "European Record, Take Majordomo for Real Prince.

Dresden.—Among the crowds of Americans who took part in the demonstrations in Berlin were two American girls engaged in the task of building up a European bicycling record.

They are Hattie Sherborne and Maud Handley, both of Brooklyn, Landing at Chorborg, they cycled through France, spending three days in Paris. Italy was the next country visited, and after Italy, Germany, Copenhagen, Christiania and Stockholm are also to be visited.

According to the account given by the travelers to a Dresden paper their journey up to that point was free from any disagreeable incident. They told, however, of an occurrence of an unusual kind if it also brought them a little disappointment. On one occasion, when they were near Cannes, a fire was punctured and they were threatened with being stranded, when the prince of Monaco's automobile came along and gave them a lift. There was a splendidly dressed gentleman in the car whom they at first took for the prince himself, but who turned out to be only his majordomo.

"After having laughed ourselves for twenty minutes talking with a live prince," said Miss Handley, "we were real vexed to discover our mistake."

$150,000 DIAMOND IS FOUND

Excellent White African Specimen Is Declared to Have a Weight of 154 Carats.

New York.—A fine white diamond weighing 154 carats and worth $150,000 was found at the Premier mine in South Africa, according to advices which reached Mendenhall last night. The stone is described as absolutely flawless, being two inches long by about three-fourths of an inch thick. It tapers in breadth from one end to the other to three-fourths of an inch.

A Malden Lane expert said that, judging from the description of the uncut stone, the largest perfect diamond that could be cut from it would be pear-shaped.

The finished stone will probably rank among the world's famous gems. When cut the diamond should be worth at least $200,000. The Premier mine became world-famous in 1905, when the Cullinan diamond was discovered by Mr. Wells.

Walter Wanted for An Airship.
Berlin.—"Required, for the Friedrichshafen Airship company, an industrious and dexterous airship waiter; weight not to exceed 150 pounds," is the text of an advertisement in certain German newspapers.

Five hundred pounds of clean, white wiping rags wanted at once. Price 2½¢ lb., at Gazette office.

FREE FARM LANDS ARE OPENED.

Thousands of Unappropriated Acres Thrown Open for Settlement.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Thousands of acres of unappropriated lands which were eliminated from the national forests and restored to the public domain by recent proclamation of President Taft will be thrown open to homestead settlement and entry this fall, according to orders issued by Acting Secretary Pierce of the interior department.

The lands are located in Colorado, New Mexico, Washington, Oregon, Utah, Idaho and Wyoming.

The secretary also has restored to settlement on October 22 and to entry on November 21 about 9,220 acres in the Great Falls (Mont.) land district, formerly withdrawn.

CUTTER PERRY A TOTAL WRECK.

Revenue Vessel Goes on Rocks in Behring Sea—Crew Safe.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The first serious wreck of a revenue cutter since the Gallatin was driven on a rock in Boston harbor during a heavy snowstorm 18 years ago became known, when official advices reported that the Perry, carrying half a hundred officers and men, had run on a dangerous reef in Behring sea and was a complete loss.

No lives were lost, and the men have been distributed among the other craft that guard the sealing herds and perform other duties in those northern waters.

Missouri Baptist Assembly.

Ironton, Mo., Aug. 3.—The Missouri Baptist assembly opened today at Arcadia Heights, far up in the Ozarks on the shores of Knob lake. The attendance is very satisfactory and an attractive program has been arranged for the 12 days that the assembly lasts. Many of the Baptists are living in tents and enjoying to the utmost the outdoor life.

Cotton Mills Are Closing.

VITRIOL KILLS 2, BURNS 9.

Flery Fluid Upsets on Wagon and Lad and Girl Meet Death.

Philadelphia, Aug. 3.—Two children are dead, two others are critically injured and seven more are terribly burned as the result of the upsetting of a truck loaded with carboys of vitriol on which they were riding. The driver of the truck and eight other men who helped to rescue the children from the fiery fluid are suffering from severe burns.

Associated Ohio Dailies Meet.

Cedar Point, O., Aug. 3.—The twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Associated Ohio Dailies opened at the Breakers hotel today, and the sessions will continue through three days. The most important business to come before the association is consideration of the reports of the committees on reforming the rate card and on a uniform system of making out bills for foreign accounts. The social events include boat rides, surf bathing and the ball to be given by the Ohio legislators tomorrow evening. John T. Mack is presiding over the sessions of the newspaper men.

Storm Drowns 200 Fishers.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 3.—Two hundred fishermen have been drowned by the capsizing of their boats during a typhoon on the River Amur, near Noolayevsk.

Common-Sense Psychology in Ad Copy

"When an advertising man has been in the business for some years, writing copy almost every day he gets to feel certain bed-rock, common-sense requirements of good copy that many of those who merely baffle or theorize never seem to grasp," says J. H. Schumaker in Printers' Ink.

"Practical advertising men are not apt to stop long to theorize, therefore it is hard to get them to write or tell about this common-sense criterion for copy. The very chips who are so constantly writing about how to write good copy are seldom real, practical copywriters. There is something peculiarly psychological about copy-writing which brings success to the man who is least self-conscious and deliberate about it. The man who is constantly framing up general principles, or even the man who makes the most analytical and psychological effort while writing copy, is extremely liable to go astray and write strained and wooden stuff."

This is why the study of psychology in advertising frequently defeats its purpose. A man who has had much contact with people and selling will have a far surer selective psychological instinct in preparing an advertising argument than most copy-writers who attempt to apply rules or methods. Some day we may perhaps hope to be just as effective when we proceed on rules as when we write copy on instinct and human-nature experience; but it is my belief that advertising will always be an art, not a science. If it is a science, then literature is also a science, and it must be possible to compound a masterpiece in a laboratory."

I don't know of any more certain rule in advertising writing than to keep trying to persuade either yourself or an imaginary individual all the time that you are composing the ad. In drafting it, there is a simple but profound rule to be observed—to force home a single strong impression.

So much advertising rambles; it doesn't deliver a telling blow at the start, and then consistently follow it up. It has no unity, and therefore no practical power for business. Practical advertising demands that you make a point right from the crack of the pistol. It must be a real point, too—one that, by the very nature of it, will first attract the exact kind of reader you want and which will set him to wanting more information.

Nothing Is Out Of Your Reach

A story handed down out of the dim vistas of the past has a moral in it that you can profitably "take home" to yourself. Said a Spartan youth to his mother, "My sword isn't long enough to reach the enemy." "Then," said the mother, "add a step to your sword."

The moral is—if your ability now is not long enough to reach Business Success, add to it the step of Greater Business Training.

Listen to former Secretary of the United States Treasury Lyman J. Gage. He plainly tells you: "A thorough Business Education opens the mind to a comprehension of that distributive system of commerce by which the division of labor is made possible. If a diligent student in a PROPER business school, you will acquire a mental grasp of the principles of political economy. The surest way to succeed is to learn to do something the world wants done. You must learn to do it quickly, thoroughly. As soon as you learn this, success is within your grasp."

THE BUSINESS WORLD OFFERS YOU THE GREATEST CHANCES. In the business world every time your watch ticks, opportunity greets you. And to the TRAINED, the thorough stenographer or bookkeeper, the business world offers its biggest opportunities.

THE STENOGRAPHER IS THE "RIGHT HAND MAN" of the boss. To the stenographer is dictated the important confidential letters of the concern. He is constantly learning more and more about the money-making end of the business—is becoming daily more valuable to the house and himself—is in direct line for promotion.

AND THE BOOKKEEPER—WHAT CHANCES ARE HIS! If he has had the RIGHT training in the RIGHT business college, he will get a good salary at the start; and will be in a position to learn all the important details of the financial operations of big concerns. He will be in direct line for promotion to the splendid salaried positions of Head Bookkeeper, Credit Man, and the higher executive positions.

Truly, nothing is out of your reach if you are only determined to succeed—and only will obtain thorough, practical training at the right kind of business college like

Southern Wisconsin Business College

Remember this is the school conducted strictly on business principles. It does not need to employ solicitors to go from house to house to beg prospective students to attend. The high-grade work which we are doing, the splendid success of our graduates, and the endorsement of the business and professional men of our city and community, has given this school a prestige with the young man and woman who is seeking to secure a reliable business education.

LAMB ONCE A JOURNALIST

At One Time He Was Actively Engaged on the Staff of the London Post.

In connection with Lord Glenesk's recently published history of that old-established London journal, the Morning Post, it is interesting to recall the fact, that at one time Charles Lamb was on its staff of contributors. This gentle essayist wrote largely for a column headed "Fashionable Intelligence." In those days, as Lamb says, "every morning paper, as an essential retainer to its establishment, kept an author who was bound to furnish daily a quantum of witted paragraphs." It was in this capacity that Lamb was engaged on the Post; furthermore his contract stipulated that in "the chat of the day, scandal, but above all, dress" he should supply six paragraphs a day, not one of which was to exceed seven lines in length, and the payment for which was to be 12 cents each.

In his essay "Newspapers Thirty-Five Years Ago," Lamb seems to have been rather pleased with the "bitlets" of chat he contributed to the press; we now find that "Dan Stuart," his editor, entertained a different opinion as to their value. "As for good Charles Lamb," he said, "I never could make anything of his writings. Of politics he knew nothing; they were out of his line of reading; and thought, and his drollery was rapid when given in short paragraphs fit for a newspaper."

TUNA A REMARKABLE FISH

Swagging Musketeer of the Sea Is the Largest of the Game or Bony Fishes.

Charles Frederick Holder, the California naturalist, thus describes that remarkable fish the tuna: "The tuna is a pelagic fish, a free lance, an ocean rover, a sort of swagging musketeer of the sea, the largest of what may be termed the game or bony fishes, attaining a maximum weight of nearly 2,000 pounds and an approximate length of fourteen feet or more. Such a fish is very exceptional, though specimens weighing 1,500 pounds have been taken on the New England coast. I once entered a school in a big launch. The school divided to port and starboard as we passed through it, and I had a view of one or two fishes that appeared to be more than half as long as the boat."

"These fishes spend the winter in warm latitudes, and migrate north as far as the mouth of the St. Lawrence. They are found in the Mediterranean, and north to the Lofoden island; yet so far the efforts of anglers, except at Santa Catalina, have failed to take them with the rod. Even here there is a stretch of but eight miles or so where they can be satisfactorily played and taken with rod and reel."

"This region lies on the north side of Santa Catalina, from Avalon to Long Point, and to the east as many more, facing the north, and generally smooth—more like a Scottish loch than a fishing ground 20 miles out to sea."

Unusual.

MODERN SPAIN.

The events that are taking place in Spain at this moment entitle that country to our sympathy and intelligent friendship. More immediately, the question resolves itself into two heads, a diplomatic and a political; the first concerning the concord or agreement with the Vatican made in 1851, the second concerning Premier Canalejas and the continuance in office of his government. It is with him that the world concerns itself, but the political question, though it assumes this particular concrete form, is but the climax to a series of events that have taken place through centuries.

Senor Canalejas has said that he wishes, among other things, the advancement of public education and the advance of Spain in enlightenment and liberty. With these objects that the Spanish premier has, no citizen of the United States can fail to sympathize, and one must give great credit to a King and his prime minister that are willing to pursue these objects in the face of a social and political condition that belongs to the middle ages. But they have done this and it is for the people of Spain that they are doing it.

Senor Canalejas says that he wishes to make Spain modern; this is no more than saying that he wishes to put his country in a position where it can avail itself of what may be called the rights of the modern world. When he says that if his party succeeds it will be decadence, he strikes the note. This is not an age of decadence but of advance and light, and to deny those to Spain today is to declare one's self an enemy to mankind. No patriot, no man that pretends to love the right, would lift a finger to bring back the wretched days of Godoy and of Isabella II. in our time.

It is but thirty-six years ago that Alfonso XII. was called to the throne, after Amadeus of Austria had found it impossible and the republic under Castelar had proved a failure. Alfonso's work consisted largely in composing the civil war that the Carlists were always ready to foment. Since that time, say what its critics may, Spain has been much happier than it had been hitherto from one political viewpoint to another. Great abuses have undoubtedly existed and as plainly need reform, but they will not be battered by the convulsions of a state that needs quiet in finance and politics.

A step in the direction of better education, greater religious toleration and a more modern view of political questions is a step toward the light, and the only one that can at the same time balk the forces of reaction and repress the violence of anarchy. If this step be not taken, Spain must pay the penalty and continue to be regarded by a good part of the western world as still wrapped in the deep sleep of centuries that until today has held her inert and well nigh helpless, when it was her right to take her place among the nations.

At this juncture, the pretender, Don Juana, has issued a manifesto, in which he says that he will lead the people to battle. For what? It must either be to reduce them once more to what they now have a chance to escape through the plans of the Canalejas government, or it must be for the impossible purpose of establishing a republican form of government under Bourbon auspices.

The duty of the republicans in Spain is to support the government because they will obtain more from it than they ever could dream of getting from Don Juana and his supporters. If the more advanced part of the progressive element in Spain should join hands with the pretender's party and should happen to win for the time, they will have risked much only to set up a master whose sympathy with popular government and progress is only measured by ambition.

Senor Canalejas has spoken as a patriot, and as patriots all men in Spain should hearken to what he says. It is said that he has the support of his King, in which case the duty is all the greater for Spaniards whose loyalty has always been very strong, but the greater object of loyalty should be Spain itself, that she may partake in reasonable and solid fashion of those advantages and those rights which her foes seek to deny to her.

FARM RETRENCHMENT.

According to the Wall Street Journal, if liquidation in securities is to be taken as a forerunner of retrenchment in other productive fields, how is it likely to affect the farming population of the country? Nobody wishes to see the purchasing power of the farmer reduced. On the contrary, the general prosperity of the country in other than agricultural lines depends so much on good crops that everybody wishes nature to deal bountifully with the tiller of the soil, if for no other reason than pure self-interest. This year, however, the chances are that farm retrenchment will be the keynote to the policy of that industry. Yields and values point to resources amounting to somewhat less than in recent years, of which the American farmer has had several that have brought the value of his principal products up to a total of $8,000,000,000 and over. If retrenchment is to be the order of the day among farmers, they ought to be well prepared for it.

A year of restricted purchasing activity on the part of the farmer, enforced by comparative crop shortage, affects his industry very much as it does any other. It begins by cutting down outlays from which there can be no immediate return. It continues through the reduction of expenditures leading to extensions, and generally ends in some form of reducing the costs and improving the processes of farming. A crop which falls below the average is an event for which there may be many removable causes. It is not enough to accept shortage of rainfall or hot winds as the causes of shortage. The problem becomes one of conserving moisture by means of better treatment of the soil and better cropping. A period of destructive hot winds is partly the result of conditions of vegetation which can be remedied. Therefore the causes and conditions of such climatic changes become problems peculiar to a retrenchment period.

Scientific methods must dominate the policies to be pursued in the next twelve months. The agricultural college has become a power all over the land, and at no time does it receive more consideration than in a period of crop shortage. There will probably be less travel, less outlay for what the outside critic might consider farm luxuries, and loss of that free flow of spending which belongs to his crop years. But there will be more attention given to the selection of seeds, to the study of soils, to the improvement of live stock and to the maintenance of fertility than in probably any year in the last half decade.

When it comes to choosing an assemblyman the voters of the county have three good ones to select from—Whittier, Fisher and Gault. All true and tried men that will make excellent representatives in Madison next winter.

With the advent of the Cripple case into American history of criminal affairs comes the introduction of the word "typist." Perhaps it will take the place of the old term, "stenographer," and perhaps not. Still it is here now.

Kansas, Iowa, Ohio and Oklahoma may all have their political arguments in July and August if they want to, but Wisconsin chooses September so as to make all the heated term one of anxiety and worry.

The state board of agriculture is running foul of the local entanglements that bother those persons who do not strictly comply with the law of the land.

As the time for the primaries draws near the voters of the counties to cover the critics assigned to them by the campaign committee is annually advertised each day.

What is needed is rain and lots of it for the next few days. If we should have a small sized deluge it would help things wonderfully.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

MARRIED AT TWELVE.

Recently in an Indiana town the parents of a girl twelve years of age permitted her to marry a man of thirty.

Which was a vicious crime against childhood.

More than that, it was a crime against society, against civilization, a crime against the future.

Think of it!

A girl of twelve years, still in short dresses, whose place should be on her father's knee; a girl of tender years, whose only serious concern should be her school work and whose chiefest pleasures should be her dolls and play-houses!

The pity of it!

What does this baby of twelve years know about a husband or marriage or love or life?

No girl is physically fit to be a wife or mother at twelve. Marriages of that sort are made only in India and the Orient, where wives are regarded only as toys or playthings.

What sort of children may be expected from a child mother not yet in her teens?

Society puts its age limits upon marriage not only for the protection of the contracting parties, but to protect itself from children born with a handicap.

It is easy to predict the finish of this child if the marriage stands.

At an age when other young girls are beginning to entertain their earlier hopes who will be a broken, nervous wreck, doomed perhaps to an early grave.

The wrong of it!

It was a ruthless act.

The tendency of our day is away from early marriages, and for a good reason. We are beginning to understand that wifehood and motherhood call for a maturity, physical and mental, of twice twelve years. If the race is to advance the mother must be fit and educated for her duties.

Poor little Hoosier girl!

Justice and decency demand that she should be taken from her new home by the humane or some other society and sent to school.

And decency and justice demand that the mature parties to the conspiracy should be punished.

TO START WORK ON NEW OFFICES

JULIUS HAGER GETS CONTRACT FOR NEW WISCONSIN TELEPHONE CO. BUILDING.

PLAN MANY IMPROVEMENTS

New Switchboards to Be Installed And Entire System in City to Be Changed.

With the expenditure of seventy-five thousand dollars by the Wisconsin Telephone company for the construction of a new telephone exchange and the rearrangement of the entire system in the city, Janesville will have one of the finest offices and equipment that will not be excelled by any of the cities of the state and will rank up well with that of the larger cities. In every feature the new offices and accessories will represent everything up-to-the-minute in telephone work. The contract for the construction of the building was let yesterday to Julius Hager of this city, and work will be commenced within a few days.

Mr. Hager's bid for the work was $15,000, but the company will probably make expenditures of about twenty thousand dollars on building and fixtures. This, however, is only a portion of the sums to be paid out. The entire outside plant, as it is called, embracing wires, poles, and other equipment throughout the city, will be rearranged; the latest type of toll switchboards and the most modern design of local switchboards will be installed in the "central" office, so as to give the quickest service possible. Under the new system the old bell calls will be removed and taking the receiver off the hook of the instrument will call "central." In the business district of the city, considerable underground work has been laid out.

The building itself will be modern in all respects, two stories high with a basement. It will be built of red brick with Bedford stone trimmings, and concrete foundations and walls. The heavy equipment and the power plant will be located in the basement and in the rear of the first floor. The offices of the local manager and his assistants will occupy the rest of the first floor. The second story will be entirely used for the operating department, with the switchboards. The company expects to occupy the building about the first of January, 1911.

WILLIAM H. GOODEN DIES IN COLORADO

Former Janesville Boy Passed Away in Denver Hospital Yesterday of Tuberculosis.

William H. Gooden, a former Janesville boy, and son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gooden, 163 North Third street, died yesterday morning in a hospital in Denver, Colo., of tuberculosis. He was taken to his bed ten weeks ago and since then his decline has been rapid. Several days ago his parents were notified of his serious condition and Mr. Gooden left immediately for Denver, and was at the bedside when his son died.

William H. Gooden was thirty-four years of age, born in Janesville, England. When eight years of age, his parents moved to this city, and he lived here, attending the public schools of Janesville. He was always interested in athletic sports and was quite a favorite among his fellows. When eighteen years of age, he went to Plattsburg, New York, where he joined the regular army in order to secure the musical training afforded in the Plattsburg Military Band. After spending six months at Plattsburg, war was declared with Spain and he was with the regiment band, known as the "Fighting Musicians," who went to Cuba. He stayed in Cuba until the surrender and then was sent to serve the remaining two years of his enlistment in the Philippines. He returned from the Philippines broken in health, and after a visit with his parents went to the Soldiers' Home and later to New Mexico, where he remained four years in a government hospital. Last fall he visited for a time here with his parents and then went to Denver to take up an engagement he had to play with an orchestra at Hot Springs, Colorado. The position was a fine one, and he had hopes of carrying out his contract but after six weeks, his health gave out and he was forced to give it up.

Mr. Gooden was an accomplished musician, was ambitious, had been given the best of training and gave promise of rising high in his profession. He had played in some of the best known musical organizations in the United States, and was able to perform on several instruments, but was most skillful with the violin. He was a young man of good moral character and well liked. Surviving members of his family are his father and mother, one sister, Mrs. Dan Leary and a brother, James, all of this city. Mr. Gooden left Denver this morning with the remains and will arrive here sometime tomorrow. The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

James Ryan.

Funeral services for James Ryan were held at 9:45 o'clock this morning from the late residence, 129 S. Academy street, and at ten o'clock from St. Patrick's church. High mass was celebrated for the deceased by the Rev. Fr. J. J. McGinly. The church was well filled with sorrowing relatives and friends who gathered to pay their last tributes of respect to the deceased, and the beauty of beautiful flowers which covered the casket showed the esteem in which he was held. The Ancient Order of Hibernians, the Catholic Order of Foresters, and the Knights of Columbus, societies of which Mr. Ryan was a member, attended the services in a body. The pallbearers, two of which were chosen from each of the societies, were: William Hughes and L. Cronin from the A. O. U. M., John Dwyer and J. W. McKee of the C. O. F., and George Devins and W. T. Dwyer of the K. of C. The remains were interred in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Friends from out of town who were here for the funeral were: Mrs. Thomas Kelly, Miss Harriet Flynn and Miss Merkle all of Chicago.

Mrs. Margaret Kemmatt. A high mass was celebrated this morning at nine o'clock at St. Patrick's church, for Mrs. Margaret Kemmatt. Dean E. E. Kelly was celebrant, Fr. Hennessy of White-water the celebrant, and Fr. James McGinly the sub-deacon. A large family circle and many friends were present at the services. The floral tributes were many and very handsome. James Kelly, William Kelly, VII Murray, John Keenan, Thomas McKelvey, and Thomas Doran acted as pallbearers. Interment was made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

More than twenty residents of Rock county, who wish to secure application blanks for second citizenship papers have been unable to do so for the past three months because of delay at the Immigration Department at Washington where Clerk of the Circuit Court, Jesse Earle, made application last April for the necessary blanks. The bureau is preparing revised forms and the blanks have not been forwarded to this county.

Murdered for a Cent.

A quarrel over a single penny led to a murder in Hoboken the other day. A man from Nebraska, who stopped at a hotel in Hoboken while awaiting the sailing of the steamer for Europe, put a penny in the slot of an automatic music box in the dining-room of the hotel, but the box refused to pour forth the expected ragtime tune. The Nebraska man became indignant and upbraided the German porter. The latter explained to him that it required a nickel and not a penny to set the mechanism of the music-box in motion, but that explanation did not satisfy the man from Nebraska. He became abusive and when the porter threatened to put him out, he pulled a revolver from his pocket and shot the porter dead.

GOOD CROPS GROWN ON RECLAIMED LANDS

Farmers Along the Evansville Ditch Claim the Results More Than Pay for the Cost.

With grain and pastures in Rock county pitifully scarce and yellow from drought, the eye is delighted to look over the thousands of acres of grain and hay laying like a great green carpet on the recently drained land to the south of Evansville. Little more than a year ago this large stretch of rich soil was covered with five feet of still water that bred mosquitoes and was a menace to the general health.

Work Begun Last Year.

The work of draining this tract was begun in June of last year. A "Y" shaped ditch was dug, starting east of Evansville and extending to the south and west. From the middle of the rim of the circle another ditch was dug to connect with a small creek at Leyden, which empties into the Rock river. The work was completed late in the fall, and the water began to recede at once.

Large Area Drained.

It is obviously impossible to estimate the land drained by this, the most pretentious drainage engineering task attempted in this part of the state. An idea may be gained, however, from the length and size of the ditch. It is ten miles long, twenty-four feet wide and eight feet in depth, and drains a territory in most places two miles wide. When it was completed water stood from three to four feet deep above the banks of the ditch. In eight months there was not over six inches running in the bottom of the drain.

Steam plows were put at work on the land, and much of it was planted to flax. The farmers were unable, because of the peculiar spring weather to plow all of it, and on this raw land is rich pasture and excellent hay.

Assess Land for Work.

The cost of the work was paid by an assessment of five dollars an acre on the land that the ditch drains, but this is a mere bagatelle, for there have been added to the cultivated lands miles of rich soil, the products of which will bring the farmers of the vicinity additional thousands of dollars annually.

An Editor's Trials.

People won't love us; we have finally made up our mind to that. Yesterday we mentioned the case of a man who has one child and who every evening buys the child an ice cream cone from a street wagon. And we mentioned how the five poor children across the street loomed longingly at the fortunate child and wanted some. Up to noon today nine men had claimed that it was a "dig" at them, and said the man across the street had plenty of money but was too stingy to buy his children ice cream cones.—Albion Globe.

WHY THE OX WAS MUZZLED

Old Welsh Plowman Took Timely Precaution to Save the Tail of the Leader.

The oxen were harnessed tandem fashion; stocky little Welshmen they were from the western hills, nearpers there, for the true Sussex ox in red. They eyed me with an expression of plaintive inquiry, and I noticed that the rear one's moist black nose was guarded by a string muzzled, through which he snorted at me in a manner hardly inviting confidence. The old plowman smiled indulgently while I admired them.

"Why do you muzzle the rear one?" I inquired.

"Look at the 'other's tail an' ye'll see," he chuckled.

And certainly the leader's tail was not so bushy as it should be.

"There aren't many oxen used now for farm work?" I asked.

He shook his head. "Only a few, just here an' there, mayhap," he answered; "horses an' steam plows 'a' done away with 'em." "Slides, there ain't many smiths left now as can shoe an ox. Rare fun it is, I tell ye, stickin' the kews on 'em, throw 'em we have to tie up their legs an' hold their necks down w' a pitchfork. Hat, hat, rare fun it is, lad."

I looked at the wide-spreading pointed horns, and thought of the usual run of village smithies. "I shouldn't imagine any smith would be anxious to learn the art," I remarked.

The old man agreed with me. He had the rosy, childish unlined face of the countryman, his eyes were gray-green, the color of the Channel sea below the edge of the frown; his grizzled head shook as he cut into his bread with the pointed blade of a big pocketknife. "No, things ain't as they were," he said, slowly. —Manchester Guardian.

"Miss Passy is furious with that society reporter."

"Why not?"

"He published the announcement of her approaching wedding under the column headed 'Late Engagements.'"

Limited Vision.

There was a man once—a poet. He went wandering through the streets of the city, and he met a disciple. "Come out with me," said the poet, "for a walk in the sand dunes." And they went. But ere they had progressed many stages, said the disciple, "There is nothing here but sand." "Po what did I invite you?" asked the poet. "To walk in the sand dunes." "Then do not complain," said the poet. "Yet even so your words are untrue. There, in heaven above, do you not see it? The fault is not heaven's; nor the sand's." —Maurice Maeterlinck.

World's Oldest Tree.

The recent rose show given in Paris by the French Horticultural society recalled the fact that the oldest rose tree in the world is believed to be one which grows on a wall of the cathedral at Hildesheim, Germany. Eleventh-century records make mention of expenses incurred by caretakers of the cathedral in maintaining this tree, which covers the wall to a height of twenty-five feet and is twenty inches thick at the root.

HOW SHE GOT RID OF THEM

Discouraged Visits From Her Niece's Children by Teaching Them Verses From the Bible.

"What has become of those two children who visited you so often?" asked one West side woman of another. The other smiled discreetly. "They are the children of my niece, and she was making a convenience of me. Of course I love the children, but I never allow myself to become much of a victim of imposition. My niece is an extremely young widow, and she does not like to take care of her children. She is fond of shopping, mothering, afternoon teas and everything, in short, which takes her away from home, and she got into a habit of sending her children over to my house for me to take care of whenever she wished to get about. I decided it was time to break up the habit, for her own good and that of the children, as well as mine, so I did."

"I suppose that made your niece angry?"

"Oh, no; it couldn't. I never said anything about it. The last time the children came over I spent the afternoon teaching them verses from the Bible, and they didn't find it sufficiently entertaining. They never came back. Just how they managed to work it out with their mother I do not know, but I suppose they struck or begged off. Of course, she could not object to what I had done, and it proved a very simple solution."

The Boss.

President McCrea of the Pennsylvania railroad, in his study of all classes of men who are under him, entertains a great admiration for the Irish foreman of a gang of laborers who went to any lengths to show his men that he was the real boss. One morning this foreman found that his gang had put a hand car on the track without his orders.

"Who put that hand car on the track?" he asked.

"We did, sorr," one of the men answered respectfully.

"Well," he said shortly, "take it off ag'in!"

The laborers did so with some diffidence.

"Now," said the foreman, "put it on ag'in!"—Popular Magazine.

At a marriage service performed some time ago in a little country church in Berkshire, when the minister said in solemn tone, "Will you have this man to be thy wedded husband?" Instead of the woman answering for herself, a gruff man's voice answered:

"Of will."

Again the minister looked up surprised, not knowing what to make of it, when one of the groomsmen at the end of the row said:

"Er be deaf. Of he answered for 'er."—London Telegraph.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE EAGER LIBRARY

Interesting Facts Concerning Free Public Library in the Cut-Off City.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Janesville, Aug. 2.—The annual report of Mrs. Hattie J. Boyd, librarian of the Eager Free Public Library, shows that during the year ending June 30, 1910, there were loaned from the library 16,971 volumes; 10,406
from the adult department and 6,566
from the children's. At the beginning of the year there were 1,304 borrowers' cards on file. During the year there have been added 309 and 168
withdrawn, leaving a balance of 1,535
at the beginning of the fiscal year.
The number of volumes in the library
July 1st, 1909, was 3065, and there have been added during the year 425 volumes in the adult department and 11 in the children's, a total of 436.
Of these 31 volumes were added by purchase, 38 from the renting collection; 35 by binding and the balance of 332 by gift; the principal donors being Mr. Levi Leonard, 206 volumes; Mrs. F. E. Winston, 76 volumes; the Woman's Literary Club, 44 volumes. There are at present in the Public Library 3,192 volumes in the adult department and 308 volumes in the children's, a total of 3,500 volumes. In addition to this number there are 1,729 volumes, belonging to the school library; 87 volumes having been added recently. Of these 698 are adult, 1,633 children's, making a total of 3,229 volumes available for use by the public. The financial statement is as follows:

FAIR BOOSTERS AND BAND VISIT MONROE

One Hundred Business Men of Mineral Point and City Band Guests of Monroe Citizens Yesterday.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Monroe, Wis., Aug. 2.—A delegation of one hundred business men of Mineral Point, accompanied by their city band, arrived here on a special train
at noon yesterday and for two hours
were royally entertained by the citizens of Monroe. They were ban-queted at the Laddow and at one o'clock were given automobile rides about the city. Their purpose in visiting the city was to boost the Mineral Point fair. Their train has been chartered to carry them a distance of 200 miles and their boosting tour will include the cities of Warren, Calumet, Darlington, Gratiot, South Wayne,
Platteville and Shullsburg.
A second fire within a week occurred on the M. J. Newman farm west of town yesterday afternoon.
This time an out-fall was set afire
and was put out with the assistance of Jacob Blumer who rounded up several firemen and took them out in his car to put out the fire. The first fire occurred the latter part of last week at which time a quantity of wood
was consumed, causing a heavy loss.
A. W. Zilmer, Ed. Fabel and S. E.
Millman are attending the K. of C.
convention in Milwaukee this week.
Miss Hazel Zumbach has returned from a visit to relatives at Milwaukee. She was not on the return trip by her father, John Zumbach,
who met her at Madison.
Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Carroll have returned from their wedding trip to Chicago and Milwaukee.

WILL GIVE CHICAGO CHILDREN AN OUTING
Household Economics Club Arranging for Entertainment of Youngsters From Big City.
Members of the Household Economics Club
of Janesville are making arrangements for the entertainment of about thirty Chicago children who will arrive from the crowded tenements of the big city next Tuesday for an outing in this city. They will be sent out by the United Charities of Chicago and their outing will be entirely in charge of the local club.
It is expected that the children will stay two weeks.
Efforts were made at first by the Janesville women's organization to secure two cottages on the river and have the children spend the entire two weeks in the country, but only one cottage could be secured so the project was abandoned. Now the club is planning to place one or more in a home. Those who wish to help in the work of giving the city children a royal outing, may do so by offering royal keep two or more free of charge
during the two weeks. But if enough
do not offer free hospitality, the club officers are prepared to give $2.50 a week for the entertainment of their charges.
Those who wish to add the local club in their philanthropic efforts are asked to send their names to Mrs.
Janet D. Day or Mrs. E. O. Kimberly.
Miss Winifred Collins, who has charge of the outings, will be unable to accompany the Chicago youngsters to Janesville because of pressing engagements. That Janesville is not alone in the work is shown by a letter to one of the local club officers in which it is said that five hundred children from the Chicago commons were taken to Morgan Park recently and 250 to Kankakee, Ill.

SEEK A NAVIGABLE

Effort Being Made to Pilot Launch
From Defolt to Monterey

Launch owners of this city will be interested in an attempt being made by two local motor boat enthusiasts, Arthur Crum and Harry Adams, to find a channel in Rock River from De-folt to the Monterey dam. It is hardly probable that they will succeed as the water is low at the present time
and past efforts have landed the explorers only a few miles north of Yost Park. The explorers started yesterday morning on their trip but have not yet been sighted at the dam.

WAS HURT AT NEW YARDS LAST NIGHT

John O'Grady In Hospital From Injuries Due to Fall From Engine
—Other Accidents.
Knocked from an engine tender
while at work as dispatcher here in the new yards last night about 10:30,
John E. O'Grady, 703 N. Henry St., employed by the North-Western Ry., sustained severe injuries to his back and spine and is at present being cared for at the Mercy Hospital. O'Grady, who was standing on top of the tender while the engine was passing the "coal" sheds, was struck by a heavy coal chute and fell to the ground, lighting on his head and back. He was hurried to town in an engine and taken to the hospital in Russell's ambulance where Dr.
E. F. Woods attended him. It is not thought that his injuries will prove fatal. Some months ago, Andrew O'Grady, a brother, also employed by the C. & N. W. Ry., fell from a car at Madison and sustained injuries which resulted in his death.

Fell on Knife Blade.
While at work in the Rock River Cotton Mills yesterday afternoon, at half past three, Viola Gokey, aged sixteen, fell to the floor and ran the blade of a knife, which she carried in the pocket of her apron, into her leg about an inch. The wound, although not serious, frightened her badly and she became hysterical. She was taken to the home of Joseph Kahl, 608 S.
Third St., where she boards and Dr.
Judd dressed the wound.

Severed Artery.
William J. Conroy is still suffering from the effects of a wound
which he sustained when the knife
with which he was shaving a chicken slipped and severed an artery in his left hand between the third and fourth fingers. The gash lacerated was very deep and the former fireman lost about a quart of blood before Dr. Judd, who was called, could close the cut with several stitches.

ROOSEVELT IN TOUR OF ANTHRACITE MINES

Former President is Studying Social Status of Miners in Pennsylvania Coal Towns.
Scranton, Pa., Aug. 3.—Theodore Roosevelt has forsaken the field of politics for the time being and now is a social worker. He came into the heart of the anthracite coal region of central Pennsylvania to see how the miners live and what they do. The colonel was accompanied by Lawrence Abbott, son of Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook, and reached the city
in an automobile after a trip over the Pocono mountains.

While in Scranton Mr. Roosevelt was the guest of Elsie Hobart. Today he went to Wilkesbarre and for three days will be entertained by Father Curran.
On Colonel Roosevelt's arrival here
he met Miss Fanny Cochran and Miss Florence Lucas Sanville of Philadelphia, who have for years been studying conditions of life among the working classes and who are acting as his guides in his present investigation.
They preceded him from New York by train.

Explaining his tour of investigation,
Colonel Roosevelt said:
"I have long been interested in social conditions in mining towns in Pennsylvania. When I read two articles in a magazine, written by Miss Sanville and Miss Cochran of the Consumers' League of Philadelphia, I immediately got in touch with them
and arranged to visit the mining towns
and to see and talk with the people."

CITY TREASURER SHY $35,000.
Is Given Chance to Refund Money and Save Prosecution.
Telluride, Colo., Aug. 3.—Vinton V.
Rodgers has resigned as city treasurer of this city, an examination of his books showing a delinquency of over $35,000. It is not believed Rodgers will be prosecuted as he has been given until Thursday to refund the money. Prominent citizens have raised $15,000 which, with insurance policies held by Rodgers for large amounts, will very nearly make up the amount stolen. Rodgers has been an officeholder here for years and is one of Telluride's most popular citizens.

START COAL LAND FRAUD SUIT.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 3.—Henry L.
Boherty, Frank W. Fruenuff and the Bankers' Trust company of New York, with a number of citizens of Colorado
and several corporations, are made defendants in a suit brought in the federal court by U. S. Attorney General Wickersham and Assistant U. S.
Attorneys Harrell and Ward, charging them with conspiracy to defraud
the government out of 10,000 county
coal lands, valued at $700,000.

SLASHES SPOUSE WITH RAZOR.

tempts to Take Her Life.
Gary, Ind., Aug. 3.—Angered because his thirteen-year-old wife refused to live with him, Joachim Daviso, twenty-four years old, a steel worker, whipped out
a razor and cut the child's throat.
The crime was committed in the home of the couple. The girl was rushed to the Mercy hospital where she lies in a dying condition. Daviso was arrested.

The Girl and the Bill

By Bannister Merwin
ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WALTERS

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—At the expense of a solid hat Robert Orme saves from arrest a girl in a black dress who has caused a traffic jam on State street. He buys a new hat and is given in change a live dollar bill with the number 1234567890 written on it. A second time he helps the girl in the black dress and learns that in Tom and Jessie Washington they have enemies. He promises to keep the bill until ten tomorrow morning. The office clerk tells Orme that a Japanese has been seen in the city and that he is a dangerous man.

CHAPTER II.—Orme goes for an evening walk and in Lincoln park rescues a girl from two Japanese assassins. He takes her to the police station and is told that the girl is a Japanese and that she is a dangerous man. He promises to keep the bill until ten tomorrow morning. The office clerk tells Orme that a Japanese has been seen in the city and that he is a dangerous man.

CHAPTER III.—Orme goes to the police station and is told that the girl is a Japanese and that she is a dangerous man. He promises to keep the bill until ten tomorrow morning. The office clerk tells Orme that a Japanese has been seen in the city and that he is a dangerous man.

CHAPTER IV.—In the Pere Marquette reception room he finds the girl of the bill. She tells him that she is a Japanese and that she is a dangerous man. He promises to keep the bill until ten tomorrow morning. The office clerk tells Orme that a Japanese has been seen in the city and that he is a dangerous man.

CHAPTER V.—In the university grounds at Evanston Orme locates the girl. She tells him that she is a Japanese and that she is a dangerous man. He promises to keep the bill until ten tomorrow morning. The office clerk tells Orme that a Japanese has been seen in the city and that he is a dangerous man.

CHAPTER VI.—Orme goes back to the university grounds and finds the girl. She tells him that she is a Japanese and that she is a dangerous man. He promises to keep the bill until ten tomorrow morning. The office clerk tells Orme that a Japanese has been seen in the city and that he is a dangerous man.

CHAPTER VII.—The two boats close in. Orme jumps into Orme's boat. The girl jumps into Orme's boat. She tells him that she is a Japanese and that she is a dangerous man. He promises to keep the bill until ten tomorrow morning. The office clerk tells Orme that a Japanese has been seen in the city and that he is a dangerous man.

Gave No Indication of Feeling at All.

suspicion of pursuit, though his somewhat indeterminate profile, as visible to Orme, gave no indication of any feeling at all. So Orme stood where he could watch without seeming to watch, and puzzled over the problem of following Maki from the car without attracting attention.

The refusal of the other Japanese to accept the girl's offer of money for the papers had given Orme a new idea of the importance of the quest. Maki and his friend must be Japanese government agents—just as Fortell and Alcantara were unquestionably acting for their government. This, at least, was the most probable explanation that entered Orme's mind. The syndicate, then—or, concession, or whatever it was—must be of genuine international significance.

Though Orme continued to smother his curious questionings as to the meaning of the secret, he could not ignore his general surmise. To put his confidence in the girl—to act for her and for her alone—that was enough for him; but it added to his happiness to think that she might be leading him into an affair which was greater than any mere tangle of private interests. He knew, too, that, upon the mesh of private interests, public interests are usually woven. The activity of a Russian syndicate in Korea had been the more or less direct cause of the Russo-Japanese war; the activity of rival American syndicates in Venezuela had been, but a few years before, productive of serious international complications. In the present instance, both South American and Japanese were interested. But Orme knew in his soul that there could be nothing unworthy in any action in which the girl took part. She would not only do nothing unworthy; she would understand the situation clearly enough to know whether the course which offered itself to her was worthy or not.

In events such as she had that night faced with him, any other girl Orme had ever met would have shown moments of weakness, impatience, or fear. But to her belonged a calm which came from a clear perception of the comparative unimportance of petty incidents. She was strong, not as a man is strong, but in the way a woman should be strong.

The blood went to his cheeks as he remembered how tenderly he had spoken to her in the boat, and how plain he had made his desire for her. What should he call his feeling? Did love come to men as suddenly as this? She had not rebuked him—there was that much to be thankful for; and she must have known that his words were as involuntary as his action in touching her shoulder with his hand.

But how could she have rebuked him? She was, in a way, indebted to him. The thought troubled him. Had he unintentionally taken advantage of her gratitude by showing affection when she wished no more than comradeship? And had she gently said nothing, because he had done something for her? If her patience with him were thus to be explained, it must have been based upon her recognition of his unconsciousness.

Still, the more he pondered, the more clearly he saw that she was not a girl who, under the spell of friendly good will, would permit a false situation to exist. Her sincerity was too deep for such a glossing of fact. He dared assume, then, that her sympathy with him went even so far as to accept his attitude when it was a shade more than friendly.

More than friendly! Like a white light, the truth flashed upon him as he stood there on the rocking platform of the car. He and she would have to be more than friendly! He had never seen her until that day. He did not even know her name. But all his life belonged to her, and would belong to her forever. The miracle which had been worked upon him, might it not also have been worked upon her? He felt unworthy, and yet she might care—might already have begun to care—but he put the daring hope out of his mind, and looked again at Maki.

"And you know how serious it is," the Japanese had not moved. His face still wore its racial look of patient indifference; his hands were still crossed in his lap. He sat on the edge of the seat, in order that his feet might rest on the floor, for his legs were short; and with every lurch of the car, he swayed easily, adapting himself to the motion with an unconscious ease that betrayed supple muscles.

The car stopped at a corner and the man and woman got out, but Maki did not even seem to glance at them. Orme stepped back to make way for them on the platform, and as they descended and the conductor rang the bell, he looked out with his well-lighted, macadamized streets, its vacant lots, and its occasional houses, which seemed to be of the better class, as nearly as he could judge in the uncertain rays of the arc lamps. He turned to the conductor, who met his glance with the look of one who threatens to talk.

"People used to go to parties in carriages and automobiles," said the conductor, "but now they take the car when they've any distance to go. It's quicker and handier."

"I should think that would be so, here in the suburbs," said Orme. "Oh, this ain't the suburbs. We crossed the city limits 20 minutes ago."

"You don't carry many passengers this time of night."

"That depends. Sometimes we have a crowd. Tonight there's hardly any one. Nobody else is likely to get on now."

"Why is that?"

"Well, it's only a short way now to the connection with the elevated road. People who want to go the rest of the way by the elevated, would rather there's other car lines they're more likely to take, where the cars run freer."

To be continued.

There Was Once a Man, Mark Twain Tells,

who wouldn't shingle his roof when the sun shone because it wasn't necessary, and when it rained he couldn't. So he never got anywhere.

There are some merchants who don't advertise when business is good because they don't need to and when things are slow they think they can't afford it, so they never get anywhere.

The time to advertise is when you have something to say about your business or your goods. Every business man can find things to say that will interest people in his store and in his goods if he has a good proposition. That it pays to advertise is a truism all live merchants know.

Some merchants know how to present their goods and their store and the policies of the store better than others, but MOST merchants use The Gazette because The Gazette goes into more than 5 times as many homes as any other advertising medium for but little more in cost than others.

OFFICIAL NOTICE NO. 104.

NOTICE OF ASSESSMENT.

Office of Street Assessment Committee.
Janesville, Wis., July 28, 1910.
To Whom It May Concern:
The Common Council of the City of Janesville having determined that during the ensuing year, sewerage be constructed and paid for by special assessment upon the following named streets to-wit:
In Sewer District No. 16,
On Carrington St., from Main St. to Garfield Ave.
On Garfield Ave., from Carrington St. to Vista Ave. North, and on Vista Ave. North, from Garfield Ave. to Logan St. North.
Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that the street assessment committee, acting as a board of public works, will meet on the 15th day of August, at 10 o'clock in the afternoon at their office in the city hall in said city for the purpose of making such assessments and that all persons interested in any matter or matters bearing on the matter of the assessment and the improvement of the expense of constructing said sewerage, and all persons owning lots and parcels of land fronting or abutting on each side of said sewers in each of said sewerage districts, notice is hereby given that at least ten days prior to such hearing the street assessment committee will make and file in the city clerk's office a table intelligently exhibiting the sums to be assessed on all the lots, parts of lots and parcels of land in each of said sewerage districts, which table shall be open to public inspection.

OFFICIAL NOTICE NO. 103.

Street Assessment Notice.
Published by the order of the Common Council of the City of Janesville.
Office of the Street Assessment Committee.
Janesville, Wis., July 28, 1910.
To Whom It May Concern:
The Common Council of the City of Janesville having decided that it was expedient and necessary that the streets of the City of Janesville be improved by the laying of gutters and curbing and otherwise improved at the expense of the real estate owners who benefit thereby, and having ordered that the street assessment committee, acting as a board of public works, make and determine the benefits and damages which shall accrue to each parcel of real estate affected by such changes and improvements; and that such committee shall make and determine the benefits and damages accruing to each parcel of real estate affected by such contemplated work or improvements.
Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that the street assessment committee has prepared and approved the table and the entire cost of the improvement contemplated, and that the plans and specifications determined and that the same have been filed in the city clerk's office and each parcel of real estate affected by said improvements, and that the same shall be assessed to each parcel of real estate as benefits or damages accruing thereto by such contemplated work or improvement.
Said table is further given to all persons interested that said report is on file and open for review in the office of the street assessment committee in the city clerk's office in said city, and will be so continued for the space of ten days after the date of this notice and that on the 25th day of July, at two o'clock in the afternoon, the said committee will be in session at their office to hear all objections that may be made to said report.

Signed,
W. F. CARLE,
C. C. KIRBY,
JOHN J. SHERIDAN,
WM. HALL,
GEO. D. BUCHHEIM,
Street Assessment Committee.
